

The pre-awards solution you can configure to suit your institution's processes and terminology.

An intuitive cloud-based solution, GrantsNow simplifies your entire pre-award management needs from creating and costing a proposal, to ethics and compliance, to submission, award and maintenance on a single platform.

Why GrantsNow?

Pre-built integration with Oracle Cloud ERP and end-to-end implementation with any pre-existing system

Rich and insightful dashboards and reports offering 360-degree line of vision

Access to key information in one single place

Configurable admin console enabling extensive self-service customisation

Full economic costing capabilities in line with TRAC requirements

Can be adapted, extended, and upgraded for future requirements

The typical challenges in pre-awards process can be

- Failure to uncover cost savings, forecast increments and inflation, and view multiple costings
- Complex approval processes that need to cover all university needs
- Absence of a centralised document repository
- Integration with 3rd party systems to facilitate accurate costings and stop duplication of work effort

Our team is comprised of experienced higher education research experts, solution design specialists, enterprise architects, and cloud computing experts. They have used their extensive knowledge of pre-award processes and system integrations to develop an intelligent solution that comprehensively addresses typical challenges.
